This is the fourth office action for application number 10/802,983, Retail Display Support having Reduced Drag and Method, filed on March 17, 2004.

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on August 31, 2006 has been entered.

Election/Restrictions

Claims 5-8 and 12-16 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on October 28, 2005.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 42-45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent 5,878,895 to Springs in view of U.S. Patent 4,809,855 to Bustos. Springs discloses an apparatus (10) for placement upon a vertical support in a retail setting, the apparatus comprising: two or more pieces of retail merchandise (12); a retail support structure (14) having a rearward portion (22) adapted to be supported by the vertical support, the retail support structure having a support surface (26) extending horizontally, the support surface adapted to slidably support the retail merchandise; a front stop (28) arranged proximate a front end of the support surface; and self facing means (16) for facilitating forward movement of the retail merchandise supported on the support surface toward the front stop.

Springs discloses the claimed invention except for the limitation of a reduced friction layer permanently secured to the support surface, the layer being a fluoropolymer or silicon, note the limitation of the silicon being cured by ultraviolet light is not afforded any patentable weight because it is a process of treating the silicon that does not further limit the structural limitations of the apparatus. Bustos teaches an apparatus for placement upon a vertical support in a retail setting, the apparatus having a retail support structure (17) having a rearward portion and a support surface (21), a front stop (20), a reduced friction layer (24) permanently secured to the support surface and arranged to directly contact the retail merchandise, the reduced friction layer having a static coefficient of friction that is less than a static coefficient of friction for a standard powder coated finish for retail shelves, the friction layer being a silicon, and wherein the retail merchandise is arranged between the front stop and the rearward portion and slides upon the layer and wherein a reduced drag force between the retail merchandise and the reduced friction layer promotes self facing of the retail merchandise. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the surface in Springs to have included a friction layer as taught by Bustos for the purpose of a means for sliding the merchandise with minimum friction in regards to the support surface.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the material of the friction layer in Bustos to have been a fluoropolymer for the purpose of providing an alternative mechanically, equivalent material for reducing friction as taught by the reference to Bortz (U.S. Patent 5,646,076).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-4, 9-11, 29-41 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the primary reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter in the above claims are the limitations of an apparatus having a retail support structure, a front stop, a self-facing means for facilitating forward movement of the retail merchandise supported on the support surface toward the front stop, and a reduced friction layer selected from the group consisting of a fluoropolymer coating and a cured silicon coating that has been cured by ultraviolet (UV) light on the support surface and arranged to directly contact the retail merchandise, now essentially included in independent claims 1 and 29 and in combination with the other elements recited in the claims, respectively and which is not found in the prior art of record.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

U.S. Patent Application Publication 2004/0245197 to McElvaney
